

UNIVERSALBEDLEGS

Are you getting banged in the bedroom?

You know what we're talking about. That's right....shin injury.

The average metal bedframe is just high enough to inflict shin pain and just low enough to prevent under-bed storage. That's why we developed these durable, high-density polymer bedlegs, eliminating the need for oversized frames that bruise legs and catch toes. Best of all, our Universal Bedlegs come in 4 sizes so you can decide what height your bed should be and how much storage space you need. You can even graduate the height as kids grow from toddlers to teens. So get in on the best-kept secret in the bedroom and make sure you never get banged again.

Choose whatever size you desire: 3, 5, 7 — even 10 inches!

All Universal Bedleg products are made in the USA
